American Association Standing.

Tom McCreery's home run in the last of the twelfth inning of the game with Columbus yesterday afternoon turned a defeat into a most glorious victory for the Hoohad many close plays to decide, he ruled players tried to put through a most cowumpire saw the dirty work and penalized the visiting team a few of the Senators rushed at him as if they desired to tear him into ribbons. It was Klem's first game in the American Association, and he showed that he will not be bulldozed at any stage

Columbus had scored one run in the first half of the twelfth to break the long tie, and the Hoosiers knew they had only one more chance to again tie or to win. They grabbed at that one chance like a drewning man at a straw and made the best of it. Carr, the first man up, bounced one into Glendon's hands and was retired at first. Magoon picked out a safe spot in left for a single, and the spectators took hope. They had just cause to do so, for there was McCreery ambiing toward the plate with his pointed chin high in the air, while he muttered to himself that he would turn the trick. He met one of Glendon's curves, and the ball went sailing on a line to deep right center-that spot that is so dear to the home-run hitters. Magoon pranced home and the score was tied. McCreery had on a full head of steam and was making ready to round third base when Frield grabbed him around the neck and threw him to the ground. Then the third baseman had nerve enough to try to touch Mc-Creery out, but he got up and the umpire permitted him to trot on home, giving him credit for a home run and winning the game for Indianapolis. Few players would have held their tempers as did McCreery, for he was not only thrown to the ground, but was struck by the rowdy Friel.

FRIEL WAS FINED. Friel rushed at Umpire Klem, but the official stood firm and assessed a $10 fine against the Senator. Friel was quite angry. but from the stand it seemed as if he told two of the other Senators to "Hold me, or I will chastise the umpire." They did hold him, and when he tried to get away the bottom portion of his shirt was brought Minneapolis ......0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0-1

It was the finish to a very exciting battle. The day was warm and pleasant, as the women—it was ladies' day—had fixed the weather man. Incidentally it was a good day for Manager Phillips, and he assigned himself to slab duty. The Senators found him for four hits in the fourth inning and took the lead to the l inning and took the lead, but it was not altogether Phillips's fault, as there were three very rank errors back of him, and the fielding in that inning was dopey. As the game progressed Phillips improved.

Olmstead started the box work for Columbus, and for four innings he was an enigma. In the fifth four hits were enough to satisfy Manager Clymer and Olmstead was tuted. Glendon stopped the hitting and finish in the twelfth. The fielding of the Senators was somewhat better than the Hoosiers' work, but the visitors had horseshoe luck. Kihm got several hard ones at first and Friel made a sensational catch of Dickey's line drive in the fourth. In the sixth Bridewell caught Carr's fly in short center and Phillips was doubled at first on the play. HOW RUNS SCORED.

The game started with the earmarks of an exciting fight. Davis led off with a single and Wrigley flew to Dickey. Phillips covered first and Davis was doubled. There was nothing doing in the run-getting line until the fourth, when Columbus made four runs and the fans thought the game was | Slagle, 4. Wild pitch-Allen. Left on bases lost, Wrigley went out, but Friel singled and went to second on a passed ball. Kihm's out sent him to third and Clymer's hit scored him. Hess bobbled Martin's effort and failed to go after the ball, allowing Clymer to take third. Martin stole second and went to third on Heydon's wild throw, Clymer scoring on the error. Bride-well singled to center, scoring Martin and Bridewell reached third on McCreery's wild throw to the infield. Yeager's double scored Bridewell. In the first of the fifth the Senators went one more to the good on Friel's single and Kihm's two-bagger scored him.

Miss Ethel Spalding was again elected secretary.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Kansas City here to-day. Game at 3:45. Dickey made three hits, but not one of them figured in the scoring. Magoon got every assist in the ninth and some of them were made on brilliant plays. Swander and Heydon were the only Hooslers who did not register in the hit

Klem is a great improvement over Holliday as an umpire, and he did right in giving McCreery the home base after Friel Newlin or Fisher will do the twirling this afternoon. It is Newlin's turn, and he wil get the assignment providing he is in good pitched great ball. The runs scored by Coumbus in the fourth came after chances had been offered to retire the side.

Bridewell's catch of Carr's fly in the took the ball from him and relayed it to first in order to double Phillips. Don't try to figure how many homes Mc-his week, but be content by knowing that he will have enough cigars and tobacco to supply the players and the press box for a lot that have been here this season. They try to interfere with the runners on every possible chance, and Friel was not the only offender in yesterday's game. Bride- the weight events and Sampse will enter well tried to trip Magoon at second. Indianapolis will not have a chance to get Unglaub or Thoney from the New York Americans until Elberfield is able to play again. Unglaub is at present on the sick ist, having taken some kind of dope in place of medicine by mistake. If he should be sent to Indianapolis it is to be hoped he will be in good shape.
